

Football Coach Tally Stevens Admits Wilkinson Has Asked Him to Resign

Tally Stevens, head football coach at Brigham Young University, said he has been asked to resign by President Ernest L. Wilkinson to making the admission, Stevens said he did not resign, but that the administration wanted to fire him if they wanted to terminate his services at the university.

A STORY published in a Salt Lake paper, Stevens gave one reason for his resignation as being that, while he had some assistants in employment in the Provo area, his assistants have been offered to fill other positions.

Stevens told the Daily Universe that there are other reasons which he may release to the public, but he also said it was no disgrace to be asked to resign.

STEVENS LAST TWO years of football coaching have been lean ones for the university. This season the team placed fifth in Skyline competition for the second year in a row.

Stevens' freshman team this year did considerably better than their older brothers, giving some hope to Cougar fans that BYU football was headed for better years.

NEWS THAT THE administration had asked for his resignation touched off a flurry of speculation in Utah newspapers as to the reasons behind the surprise move.

As yet the administration has made no comment to the press concerning the incident.

OTHER SPECULATION has centered around a possible replacement for Stevens. Leading the field is Max Spillars, head coach at Flagstaff, Ariz. Freshman coach Hall Mitchell has also been mentioned for the position.

"I WON'T QUIT"—Head coach Tally Stevens, who has been asked to resign by President Ernest L. Wilkinson, says he'll have to be fired, adds he feels there's nothing honorable in quitting.

Seventy Speakers at Wednesday Service

MARION D. Hanks, member of the First Council of Seventy of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, will be the featured speaker at devotional services at Brigham Young University Wednesday.

Services will be at 10 a. m. in the Fieldhouse. Special music will be presented. Hanks, a popular speaker, has been working his work with young men as a member of President Hanks' committee on youth. Elder Hanks also will discuss a special youth section in the Improvement Era.

New Frontier' Program Gets First Test Today; Congress Behind JFK

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (UPI)—The 71st Congress convening today is geared to throw its first test behind President John F. Kennedy's anti-Communism program with prospects of mutual success.

Assistant House GOP leader Leslie C. Arends, III, said the new Democratic majority would not get his five-year program passed any way he wants it.

AREND'S SAID there was a big "question mark" in the outlook for enactment of a medical aid program for the aged tied to the Social Security system.

This bill must originate in the House, and some legislators feel the House Ways and Means Committee might only hold hearings this session, putting off a show-down until the 1962 Congressional election year.

BUT HOUSE and Senate Democratic leaders insisted that Kennedy's program would pass in some "satisfactory" manner.

Here is what Kennedy wants first from Congress:

—A medical care plan for the aged within the Social Security program.

—A hike in the $1-an-hour federal minimum wage.

—Expanded government housing.

—Federal aid to education.

—Help for areas suffering from chronic unemployment.

BEYOND these priority bills are others with uncertain futures.

They include a farm bill, still to be worked out even in general terms; a variety of government reorganization plans, including creation of a new department of urban affairs and housing; foreign aid, unemployment compensation and possible civil rights bills.

Rebels Warn Against Intervention

United Press International

BANGKOK, Thailand, Jan. 3—Pro-Communist rebels in Laos today warned that any armed intervention by the United Nations "under the United States" would be regarded as aggression.

The United States already has put military forces in the Pacific on the alert as the result of reports of increasing foreign Communist intervention in the Southeast Asian kingdom. Diplomat observers said the crisis has reached its "gravest" point.

THE WARNING WAS made by the Communist Pathet Lao radio and relayed by the official Chinese Communist New China News Agency.

Russia's official news agency, Tass, reported that the pro-Communist "government" had cabled a warning to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld against "actions in the United Nations by unauthorized persons." There were reports that the pro-western government of Prince Boun Oum had instructed Lao delegate Sisouk Na Champassak in New York to protest against foreign Communist intervention in Laos.

(THE U.N. OVERNIGHT duty officer in New York said he knew of no such protest being filed. Hammarskjöld is scheduled to leave this evening for Africa.)

According to Tass, Hammarskjöld was informed that Champassak "no longer represents Laos at the United Nations," and that any action he took would be considered "invalid."

David Wilkinson Gets Real Gift: Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford

Over the holidays David Wilkinson, senior history major, was named winner of a Rhodes scholarship for study at Oxford University in England.

He is the son of President and Mrs. Ernest L. Wilkinson. WILKINSON WAS the winner of competition held for scholars of seven western states in Pasadena. He received one of four scholarships reserved for students living in Hawaii, California, Arizona, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Colorado.

Wilkinson received one of only 32 of the coveted scholarships to be awarded in the nation. In making the awards judges consider the applicant's background in student affairs, athletics and other accomplishments.

HE WAS AN HONOR student at Brigham Young High School, where he played football. He later attended Loomis School in Connecticut, where he was awarded a trophy for the best athlete-scholar. He was also awarded an English-speaking Union scholarship to Clifton College, Bristol, England.

Wilkinson is president of Blue Keys service unit at BYU, and is a returned missionary from the North German Mission.

THE NEW CHINA News Agency quoted the Communist Laoist radio as saying that "the sending of armed forces in any form into Laos by any organization, including the United Nations, was to be held as aggression against Laos."

It repeated the Communist position that the key to settlement of the explosive situation was by reconvening of the Geneva Conference on Indochina.

"U.N. INTERVENTION in the Laoist question under the United States would never be permitted," the Red Laoist radio was quoted as saying.

Other Peiping broadcasts reported that Souphanouvong, Lao's so-called "Red Prince," had invited refugee neutralist ex-premier Prince Souvanna Phouma to end his self-exile in Cambodia and return as soon as possible to "lead the royal government and the armed forces."

SOUPHANOUVONG, a half-brother to Souvanna and leader of the Communist Pathet Lao underground, also predicted victory for his Soviet-backed forces in the battle for the Southeast Asian kingdom.

President Eisenhower approved an increase in "military readiness" of U.S. forces in the Pacific following an unusual holiday meeting with his top military and diplomatic advisers in Washington.

THE UNITED STATES was reported ready to move military forces "within hours" into the landlocked strategic country if the situation warranted.

Awards Top Electric and Contract

The largest contract for work of the electrical system at Brigham Young University was awarded to Shipp Electric Company, it was announced today President Ernest L. Wilkinson said.

PROJECT includes extending the electrical system to the new stadium, the new Fieldhouse and also the switching and power stations in vaults to the new stairways and the fieldhouse.

Of interest is the plan to install audio and video communication equipment to the stadium and to the stadium.

Esso Foundation Donates $3500 to Y

Brigham Young University has received a gift of $3500 in undesignated funds from Esso Education Foundation, announced President Ernest L. Wilkinson.

The BYU grant is one of $74 granted this year for a total of $1,609,093.

THE FOUNDATION, established by Standard Oil Company (New Jersey), is also supported by five affiliates, Humble Oil and Refining Co., Esso Expert Corp., Esso Research and Engineering Co., Interstate Oil Pipe Line Co. and Jersey Production Research Co.

The transfer letter to BYU stated that the foundation grants have amounted to nine and one-half million dollars in five years. The grants are made to a select group of private universities and colleges.

THE FOUNDATION also stated that while all segments of education were facing tremendous financial problems, the privately controlled colleges and universities required particular consideration on the grounds that their continued existence could only be ensured by greatly expanded support from all sources including business.

The Pious Wallflower

BY AGNES

A month ago—on the eve of December—Linus was found expounding to Charlie Brown: "You know, it's kind of hard to imagine a holiday without a little greed attached to it." Perhaps we should see if this is the true holiday spirit. Take the Christmas Spirit as an example. Everyone knows the Story of Christmas. The inspiring story of Rudolph the Red. All his life he had been rejected and outcast because of a beautiful ponderous red nose—such a delightful thing to have (one really ought to notice the lovely ones that are to be found on campus). Then, because his luminescent nose was needed, his personality suddenly became so attractive to such everlastingly true friends as Santa's reindeer. Now could this fraternal love be called greed? Isn't this the true Spirit of Christmas?

Now we find ourselves opening our eyes to the morning of a New Year. Another pagan holiday is past. Another dollar is spent. And Santa Claus is none the wiser.

No one really knows when the first Santa Claus retired. Perhaps it happened when Christ was taken out of Xmas. However, it doesn't make a great difference. Few care. For now there is another cry in the wind this chilly morn—Resolve!

Ah, yes! Let us resolve. Resolve to diet, to go to church—to stop cutting grass—to make one's bed in the morning (or even in the afternoon), to give one's "blankets"—to date less, to study more. . . .

In our opinion the best resolution is to resolve not to make any new resolutions. Hypocrisy abounds as it is: feed it nothing tasty; it may wither and die. Herein lies progression.

*****

And in closing, as long as we must have a New Year the author would have it be as happy and prosperous as can be expected under the circumstances.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"IT'S SIGNED THE NOTHING HOUSE—SEEMS LIKE THAT FRATERNITY IS ON PROTECTION MOST OF THE TIME."

If he'll work, there's faith in his future.

Nothing...and everything

It will demand your free time—often when you want that free time for other things. It will demand sincere enthusiasm and concentration.

It will demand money, perhaps . . . certainly hard work and the sacrifice of some personal pleasures and whims.

In return you'll have nothing you can hold in your hand . . . or put in the bank . . . or stick up over the mantelpiece. Nothing but priceless faith. Hardly a specific. But faith is not a specific thing. It comes when you need it most . . . and where.

That's part of its strength—a strength that's as strong as you want to make it.

Hinckleys Give $25,000 To Scholarship Fund

An additional $25,000 was awarded to the Edwin Smith Hinckley scholarship fund at Brigham Young University by members of the Hinckley family for the Edward John Noble Foundation.

THE FAMILY committee calling on President Ernest L. Wilkinson to make the presentation of the check included Robert H. Hinckley of Washington, D.C.; G. Marion Hinckley, Utah County Commissioner; Frederick R. Hinckley of Salt Lake City; and Claude W. Hinckley, Provo.

The Edwin Smith Hinckley scholarship fund was established by an original $25,000 gift from the Hinckley family in July 1954 in memory of the Utah educator and his wife.

AFTER The initial grant, Edward J. Noble, founder of the Life-Savers Corp., and the American Broadcasting Co., gave another $25,000 to this fund in 1958. Since his death, a foundation has been established for philanthropic purposes. Another $25,000 was donated to BYU last March.

The award to the scholarship fund makes a total of $100,000 which the Hinckley family and Mr. Noble have contributed to the university.

ROBERT H. Hinckley, vice president of American Broadcasting Co.-Paramount Theatres, Inc., is now a trustee of the Edward John Noble Foundation. The first gift from Mr. Noble was made at the request of Robert H. Hinckley when he was vice president of the American Broadcasting Co.

He and Mr. Noble had been friends since 1938 when the two were appointed by President Roosevelt to the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

"Mr. Noble was interested in contributing to this scholarship fund because of his belief that BYU is uniquely set up to develop qualities of leadership," Mr. Hinckley said.

FAMILY DONORS—President Ernest L. Wilkinson of Brigham Young University center, receives a check for $25,000 from
